Not illustrated. 1906 Excerpt: ...resort of visitors. The Jagdhaus is a very accessible spot for pedestrians, possessing a splendid view of the valley of the Rhine and to the Vosges Mountains. Many other suburbs, of equal beauty and interest with those mentioned, are within short and easy reach of Baden. Longer excursions can be made to the Castle of Windbeck, 8 miles; to Achern (p. 154), a pleasant town of 3,000 inhabitants, 10 miles; to the Mummelsee, 18 miles; to Ottenhofen and the valley of Oberkappel, to Allerheiligen, to Gernsbach, Forbach and Freudenstadt by the Murgthal; to Wildbad, a rapidly increasing watering-place, a lovely carriage drive from Baden across the valley of the Murg. The mineral waters of Wildbad are saline and alkaline, beneficial in cases of gout and rheumatism, uric acid diathesis, neurosis, debility, female complaints, fractures, etc.; about 13,000 strangers visit the town during the season, May to October. The Badhaus is well arranged with various kinds of baths, and in recent years good hotels, villas, and private residences, with or without board, cafes, concert and assembly rooms have been built for the convenience and amusement of visitors. Music, 8 to 9 a.m. and 6 to 7 p.m. English Church open during the summer. Walks and pleasure grounds extend on both sides of the river. Delightful excursions may be made along the valley of the Enz and in other directions. Lawn tennis, hunting and fishing. RENCHTHAL RAILWAY. APPENWEIER TO OPPENAU (AND THE KNIEBIS BATHS). Leaving the junction at Appemveier (p. 154) the tra.n ascends the picturesque Renchthal to Zusenhofen, and in a quarter of an hour arrives at Oberkirch (pop. 2,100), a manufacturing and agricultural town, with remains of its fourteenth-century walls, situated in a fertile district on the slope of a hill....
