

Heideggers Being and Time and the Possibility of Political Philosophy

Heideggers Being and Time (1927) challenged earlier thinking about the basic structures of human being, our involvement in practical affairs, and our understanding of history, time, and being. Mark Blitz clarifies Heideggers discussions, offers brief alternative analyses of phenomena central to Heideggers argument, and examines the connection between Heideggers arguments in Being and Time and his support of Nazism. Mark Blitz is a professor of political philosophy at Claremont McKenna College and Director of the Salvatori Center for the Study of Individual Freedom. He is author of Platos Political Philosophy, Duty Bound: Responsibility and American Public Life, and Conserving Liberty.
