Not illustrated. 1842 edition. Excerpt: ...Rhys ap Tewdwr, Prince of Glamorgan, he united Mabilia, the eldest. Thus the four daughters of Fitz-Hamon were fairly settled by royal authority, and the estates concentrated upon his son, Earl Robert, and his descendants. But Mabilia, it appears, expressed some reluctance when this alliance was first proposed by the king, alleging that, as his son Robert had then no baronial title nor high military standing in the country, such a union was neither agreeable to her taste nor suitable to the rank and possessions bequeathed to her by so many illustrious ancestors. These objections, as stated by the monk of Gloucester, were too reasonable Robert of Gloucester, in commemorating these Sir Robert Lb Fitz-roy shall his name be. objections on the part of the Lady Mabilia, and their Yea, Damoseill, he sayd, thylorde shall hare a name removal and adjustment on that of King Henry, gives For him and for his heires, fayre without blame: the following shrewd and amusing dialogue.
