

The Right to Be Lazy and Other Studies (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Right to Be Lazy and Other Studies. M. Thiers, at a private session of the commission on primary education of 1849, said: I wish to make the influence of the clergy allpowerful because I count upon it to propagate that good philosophy which teaches man that he is here below to suffer, and not that other philosophy which on the contrary bids man to enjoy. M. Thiers was stating the ethics of the capitalist class, whose fierce egoism and narrow intelligence he incarnated. The Bourgeoisie, when it was struggling against the nobility sustained by the clergy, hoisted the flag of free thought and atheism; but once triumphant, it changed its tone and manner and today it uses religion to support its economic and political supremacy.
