

Temptation 101 (The Reluctant Devils) (Volume 1)

The notes and correspondence that follow may be revelatory to some, but contain no secrets, nor information not available to any soul willing to take the time to consider realities on both sides of our physical boundaries....The reader is free to make his or her own decision regarding the truth, but remember that this is a grave responsibility; the truth will hold us accountable regardless of how we view it...

Evil spirits or devils, like mortals, require no sanction for their existence and go on living with or without humanity's nod. Admittedly, there are mortals who claim a singular enlightenment that authorizes them to dismiss the existence of the inhabitants of a dark world...Satan takes a rather dispassionate delight in these non-believers, as they generally show the same regard toward their maker. Since their opinions are based solely in things as they wish them to be rather than as they truly are, they lack the ability to help or hinder in either cause.... People in general have a hard time understanding other people and things outside of their immediate awareness and so they lump them into groups not meant to be fully understood...This could not be truer when it comes to hell and the spirits that reside there....But, are we justified in thinking that all devils are poured from the same slime? How does a devil become a devil? Do they all want to be devils? Do they all enjoy their work? So many questions.....
