

To These Things You Must Return, Part 5 - The Times Are A Changin

Come Gather Round People. So began the 1960s folk song about change. Not only did the nation change with Civil Rights and Vietnam, but so did the Manatoc Reservation. A second camp was built to accommodate the growing numbers of boys. A new Ranger and Camp Cook were hired. New programs had to be initiated and old friends passed away. This book is the fifth installment of Manatocs history and legacy. In this book you will discover: The opening of Camp Butler. How the legendary Gizmo was created. The story behind the writing of The Camp Butler Legend. An honor campers ceremony that left scouts speechless. Rare photographs of the time. The chapel that never was. The infamous Fourth of July storm. Blueberries in the cannon. Memories of those who camped and worked at Manatoc.
