Excerpt from United Nations Fourth World Conference on Women: Hearings Before the Subcommittee on International Operations and Human Rights of the Committee in International Relations House of Representatives One Hundred Fourth Congress First Session, July 18, 1995 and August 2, 1995 According to recent articles in the Washin n Post and else where, these and other indications that the imese Government will obstruct freedom of expression at the conference had led some women who have been involved in the conference preparations to propose moving the conference to some other location, for example to Australia. The Post article predicted that, without the threat of such relo cation, the Chinese Government will not change its position. The Harry Wu case raises, again, the question of a possible relocation. At this point, a relocation might also necessitate a brief postpone ment. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
